- with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy
- with a social objective

It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

The sustainable investment objective of Den Sociale Kapitalfond Effekt I K/S is to improve the lives of 3000 vulnerable Danish citizens during the Fund's lifetime. The Fund aims to deliver a social and financial return by providing limited project financing to social initiatives with a direct positive impact on the lives of vulnerable citizens, and an impact on society as a whole, e.g. through public finance budget improvements.

Investments are structured as social impact bonds (SIBs), and the Fund's return on investment and a given service provider's margin (collectively 'result payments') are fully dependent on realisation of relevant social outcomes.

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

The Fund seeks to address various social challenges in Denmark, including but not necessarily limited to the following social areas of focus:

- Employment initiatives for citizens outside of the workforce due to mental illnesses or substance abuse.
- Citizens suffering from stress, anxiety or depression.
- Vulnerable families suffering domestic violence or other social issues.
- Citizens with complex challenges, e.g. homelessness or challenges that require involvement of several public entities.
- Employment health and safety in relation to e.g. stress, sick leave and work-related injuries.
- Health-related initiatives aimed at e.g. obesity, type 2 diabetes or other lifestyle-related health challenges.
- Social housing initiatives in geographically defined areas.

By December 31st 2023, the Fund’s investments covered 1.412 directly participating citizens. 444 citizens have gained employment through the Fund’s investments.

Further progress has thus been made towards the objective of improving the lives of 3000 citizens during the Fund’s lifetime, and all investments are in line with the sustainable investment objective.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

Fund reach: The Fund’s projects reached 1.412 citizens receiving direct support and/or treatment.

Employment: 444 citizens have gained employment or education via the Fund’s projects.

Employment duration: The Fund’s projects have facilitated 3.122 months of employment or education in total.

All indicators are reported as the total progress from June 2021 to end-of-year 2023.

● ...and compared to previous periods?

Indicator	2022	2023	Difference
Fund reach (no. of citizens)	505	1.412	+907
Employment (no. of citizens)	114	444	+330
Employment duration (no. of months)	423	3.122	+2.699

● How did the sustainable investments not cause significant harm to any sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments have been assessed through consideration of the principal adverse impact indicators for each investment. Based on this assessment, no investment is deemed to have a material negative impact on sustainability factors.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

— — — How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

The indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors are integrated into the internal due diligence process and annual review for assessing whether an investment caused significant harm.

The Fund does not report externally on principal adverse impact indicators.

— — — Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

No service providers or other parties to the Fund's investments have been involved in violations of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises or the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

All service providers to the fund's investments are reviewed annually on their continued alignment and relevant governance practices. Risk of violations is assessed as very low. The Fund exclusively invests in initiatives in Denmark and does not currently hold investments with involvement of multinational enterprises.

- 7022 Business and other management consultancy activities
- 8690 Other human health activities

All new investments entered into during the reference period were with service providers within the sector:

- 8559 Other education n.e.c

To what extent were sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

The Fund did not hold investments in fossil gas or nuclear energy related activities.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do no significant harm to any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

100% of investments were socially sustainable.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

No investments were included under “not sustainable”.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

Den Sociale Kapitalfond Effekt I K/S invest on outcome-based terms, and investments are structured as social impact bonds (SIBs). The Fund’s return and a given service provider’s margin are fully dependent on social outcomes relevant for each initiative. Incentives towards realising social objectives are thus aligned for all parties of a given investment. Lower than anticipated delivery on social objectives for any investment will reduce or eliminate expected result payments for the given investment.

To attain the Fund’s sustainable investment objective, the focus of the Investment Manager is on developing effective and scalable concepts, and implementing these concepts broadly in Denmark to ensure optimal social impact for a large number of citizens.

The pre-contractual due diligence process for each investment evaluates and qualifies the existing track records of service providers for delivering project-specific social objectives.

Post-contractual evaluations of social KPIs evaluate the service provider’s realisation of social investment objectives on a monthly or quarterly basis. These evaluations are validated by the problem owner (e.g. a municipality) and determine the consequent result payments to the Fund and service provider(s).

Towards the end of the reference period, measurements of quality of life were implemented for participants in several of the Fund’s investments, to gain a deeper understanding of the Fund’s qualitative social impact.
